Testing Notes: Version 2

In this current iteration of the chatbot by the Feb 19 of 2025, the main priority and sprint 2 goal to make the chatbot accept pdfs. There are still some problems with the installation process that pertain to the requirements.txt, but for now that is a given since that main priority is to have it ready and working by the sprints end. This version of the chatbot might already be outdated since a new version was uploaded by an hour or two but I still went and tried the pdf acceptance in the chatbot before moving to see the new version. For now, it looks that the team have been able to have the pdf acceptance and are moving on into the next stages of the prototype. (For the requirements.txt issues refer to Testing1). Then running the automated testing program to see the current accuracy of the chatbot itself (which can be seen in my testing branch).
